

REPORT ON EDUCATIONAL TOUR TO MEGHALAYA

Date of Visit: 9th & 10th May

Organized by: Department of Computer Applications, Morigaon College (Autonomous)

Participants: 20 Students and 2 Faculty Members

Introduction

An educational tour to Meghalaya was organized by the Department of Computer Applications, Morigaon College on the 9th and 10th of May. The objective of the trip was to provide students with exposure to the natural, cultural, and historical heritage of the region, while also encouraging experiential learning outside the classroom environment.

Day 1: 9th May

The journey began early in the morning from the college gate of Morigaon College. A brief stop was made at Jagiroad for breakfast. After several hours of travel through the scenic landscapes of Meghalaya, the group reached Cherrapunjee in the afternoon.

Upon arrival, lunch was served, after which the team visited the Sacred Forest, a site known for its ecological and cultural significance. The next destination was the Garden of Caves, where students explored the natural rock formations and waterfalls.

In the evening, the group checked into the hotel, followed by dinner. A lively singing and games session was organized, allowing the students to relax and bond with one another.

Day 2: 10th May

The next morning began with breakfast at the hotel. The group then proceeded to visit the Ramakrishna Mission Ashrama, where the students learned about the institution's educational and humanitarian contributions.

Following this, the group visited the Nohkalikai Falls, one of the tallest and most famous waterfalls in India. The next destination was the Mawsmai Cave, a popular limestone cave known for its narrow passages and natural formations. The final site for the trip was the Prut Waterfalls, where the students enjoyed photography and spent time appreciating the natural beauty.

Throughout the visits, students engaged actively, gathered new knowledge, and enjoyed the experience.

Conclusion

The return journey began in the evening, and the group reached Morigaon at around 7 PM. All students were safely dropped at their respective homes. The trip was both educational and enjoyable, offering students valuable learning experiences along with moments of fun and camaraderie. The tour successfully achieved its purpose and was appreciated by all participants.
